Domestic and International Headcount figures are based on the November 1, 2017 college submission.

Headcount figures reflect a December 11th data pull from November 1 submissions. A signed attestation from the colleges will follow but the Ministry does not expect any material changes to the numbers.

Domestic Headcount includes full-time funding eligible and second career students.

For Durham College, the international withdrawal rate is based on the number of applications approved as opposed to the number of applications received.

Because some students have rescinded applications once they understand the full implications as well as some other variables, the college has indicated the number of international applications processed is a more accurate figure.
